RIDE'S STRATEGIC PLAN

Saturday, May 30, 2015 – RIC, Building #6

This session is being held on Saturday May 30, 2015.

The Rhode Island Department of Education (RIDE) is revising its Strategic Plan. This training session is for the planning team to discuss and finalize the plan and generate a draft to be reviewed by RIDE’s Board of Directors. A final version of the strategic plan will be due to the Board by June 15.

RIASC’S LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

We are proud to introduce our Leadership Academy, a voluntary professional development program for school committee members.

In 2004 The Rhode Island Association of School Committee Members (RIASC) began its final markup of the Strategic Plan.

This award is named in honor of the late Howard Kay, a Cumberland committee member.

By the assistance of others, accomplishing their missions would not be possible without the dedicated volunteers.

This is a great resource for school committees to use in teacher contract negotiations.

GOT SIX?

By the end of the year 2015, all of our school committees will have published "prototypes" early, often, and long before they are unveiling their complete plan.

RIDE's process releases drafts (or "prototypes") early, often, and long before they are unveiling a complete plan. Most strategic planning processes are unique in several important ways. Most strategic planning processes are unique in several important ways.
